

Invitation to Delegates

1st
Endocrine
Summit
2013

SAFES

17th - 18th August, Hyderabad, India

Event Overview

Five national professional organizations came together in January 2013, to form a regional association viz South Asian Federation of Endocrine Societies (SAFES). This federation comprises of the National Endocrine Societies of India, Pakistan, Bangladesh, Nepal and Sri Lanka. It has been formed with the objective of developing a forum for Endocrinologists of this region to enable them to meet and interact regarding endocrine problems specific to this region, establish consensus statements and thereby develop strategies for targeted and appropriate management. It also aims to provide a unique platform for budding endocrinologists to enhance their skills while sharing their knowledge and experience.

The first biannual meeting of this Federation will be held at Hyderabad, India from 17th-18th August. This multinational meeting will be attended not only by accomplished endocrinologists, but also by primary care physicians, gynaecologists, paediatricians, urologists, andrologists and orthopaedicians providing a opportunity to network with colleagues from neighbouring countries in a highly diverse and interactive environment.
